CLEAN COPY OF AMENDED CLAIM

32. A method for detection in a bio-separation device having a separation channel, comprising the steps of:

defining a detection zone in the separation channel; introducing excitation radiation axially at the detection zone as analytes pass the detection zone; and detecting radiation emission from the detection zone.